CUSTOMER NOTICE

Rastelli Foods Group has a wide array of approved sources of our beef products across the United States. With all of the current news regarding product recalls by other companies, we felt obligated to inform our customers that we have NOT, and do NOT purchase products from either of the two recently accused beef producers that have been identified as the source of adulteration in ground beef.

Rastelli makes Food Safety our number 1 priority in order to protect each consumer who purchases any products manufactured by us. If at any time we were to have an incident that could possibly do harm, we would notify the general public of the issue, and clearly state any products that may be associated.

Please feel confident that we shall continue to put you, the consumer, first with each product produced.

Sincerely,

Team Rastelli
