To Our Valued Partners and Vendors:

We at Rastelli Foods Group are proud to support the efforts of several non-profit organizations that feed and provide life's basic necessities to those in need. By donating food, resources and time, we help these organizations provide meals and hope in a dignified setting to thousands of people each week.

We share a Vision learned from one of our non-profit partners that We will all be well fed in every aspect of life, and we will be made whole –even for just a few pure and powerful moments. The simplest acts of kindness can soothe the afflicted and transform the fortunate.

One of our corporate goals is to give back to and serve the communities where we do business. Our 5 & 2 Program functions as a hub for like-minded food companies that care to help eliminate hunger and elevate people in our area and beyond.

We invite you to join us by donating food and/or service items that we will deliver to our non-profit partners. It doesn't take much, and every bit counts. We at Rastelli's are committed to sending needed food items, as well as overstock and unused food items on a weekly basis. Our own warehouse managers, refrigerated trucks, drivers and QA inspectors can facilitate this for you as well, by:

1. Picking up or receiving food donations from your facility(ies)
2. Maintaining an ever-changing order form for non-profit administrators to select from
3. Delivering much needed food items to our non-profit partners

Community Need and Our Innovative Approach

Poverty, unemployment, and hunger are critical issues in Philadelphia. The city is the poorest of America's 10 biggest cities, and has the highest deep-poverty rate. Poverty causes significant suffering, including homelessness and food insecurity. Currently, there are roughly 6,200 homeless Philadelphians, including 900 people on the street. More than 1 in 4 Philadelphians are food insecure. The same issues exist in Southern New Jersey, Delaware and other surrounding areas.

Please contact me or our Community Relations Director, Laura Morris, to find out how to get involved. Laura can be reached at LMorris@Rastellis.com or 856.434.3741.

Sincerely,
